

CLAT GURUKUL

EST. PATNA · BY READY FOR EXAM

ENGLISH · TONES OF PASSAGES · RECAP 02

Tones — Discussion Deck

Disapproving Family + Ironic Family

QUESTION 1

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The editorial argues that the minister's lavish celebrations during the flood crisis displayed shocking insensitivity toward public suffering. The author suggests such conduct is morally indefensible.”

QUESTION 2

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The report acknowledges the success of the education policy but notes serious gaps in rural implementation. It argues that the government overlooked infrastructural realities.”

QUESTION 3

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The columnist fiercely condemns the misuse of sedition laws against peaceful protestors. He describes the actions as authoritarian and unconstitutional.”

QUESTION 4

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The economist questions whether the proposed reforms can genuinely reduce unemployment. She argues that similar promises have failed in the past.”

QUESTION 5

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The author condemns custodial torture as a direct assault on constitutional morality and human dignity. The article calls for strict accountability mechanisms.”

QUESTION 6

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The passage argues that the judgment, though progressive, leaves several legal ambiguities unresolved. The author carefully evaluates both strengths and weaknesses.”

QUESTION 7

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The spokesperson brushed aside concerns regarding air pollution as “seasonal exaggeration.” The article highlights the government's refusal to engage seriously with experts.”

QUESTION 8

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The editorial condemns the destruction of forests for commercial expansion. It calls the policy environmentally reckless and morally unacceptable.”

QUESTION 9

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The writer is angered by the exploitation of child labourers in hazardous industries. The article accuses authorities of ignoring basic human rights.”

QUESTION 10

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The analyst doubts whether the new taxation policy will actually increase compliance rates. Past evidence, he argues, suggests otherwise.”

QUESTION 11

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The passage appreciates the intent behind the judicial reforms but highlights serious procedural loopholes. The analysis remains balanced throughout.”

QUESTION 12

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The writer condemns communal violence as a betrayal of democratic principles. The article demands immediate institutional accountability.”

QUESTION 13

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The passage expresses outrage at the persistent wage gap faced by women workers. The author argues that such inequality cannot be justified.”

QUESTION 14

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“Scientists remain doubtful about the long-term sustainability of the project. The article repeatedly questions optimistic government projections.”

QUESTION 15

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The author criticizes politicians who exploit religious sentiments for electoral gain. Their conduct is described as morally dangerous.”

QUESTION 16

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“Researchers remain unconvinced that artificial intelligence regulations are sufficient to prevent misuse. The passage repeatedly questions official claims.”

QUESTION 17

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The article points out that the healthcare reform lacks funding clarity and administrative coordination. The author evaluates the proposal in a measured manner.”

QUESTION 18

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The editorial strongly condemns online hate campaigns targeting journalists. The author calls them a threat to democratic freedoms.”

QUESTION 19

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The writer expresses anger at the continued displacement of tribal communities without proper rehabilitation. The article portrays the situation as profoundly unjust.”

QUESTION 20

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The researcher questions whether the new law can realistically curb cybercrime. The passage notes the absence of effective enforcement mechanisms.”

QUESTION 21

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“Although the government's digital literacy programme has increased internet access, its implementation remains uneven across rural districts. Several regions still lack basic infrastructure and trained instructors. The initiative, while ambitious, suffers from serious administrative shortcomings.”

QUESTION 22

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The university's decision to ignore repeated complaints of harassment reflects a shocking disregard for student safety. Administrators remained silent even after multiple investigations exposed systemic failures. Such indifference toward victims is entirely unacceptable.”

QUESTION 23

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The regime's systematic censorship of journalists represents an assault on democratic values. Independent media outlets have been intimidated, silenced, or shut down entirely. Such authoritarian tactics deserve unequivocal condemnation.”

QUESTION 24

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The corporation's exploitation of underpaid workers under hazardous conditions is morally indefensible. Executives continued expanding profits while employees endured unsafe environments. Such behaviour reflects profound ethical failure.”

QUESTION 25

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The policy paper raises important concerns regarding climate adaptation, but its recommendations remain excessively broad. Several proposed measures lack funding clarity and implementation timelines.”

QUESTION 26

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The school authorities punished students for protesting unsafe classroom conditions rather than addressing the underlying issues. Their response demonstrated remarkable insensitivity toward legitimate concerns. The decision was both unfair and irresponsible.”

QUESTION 27

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The senator's speech consisted largely of empty rhetoric and predictable slogans. Few concrete solutions were offered beyond vague promises of reform. The performance was more theatrical than substantive.”

QUESTION 28

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“Although the economic reforms increased foreign investment, they also widened regional inequality in several states. Policymakers appear to have underestimated the social consequences of rapid privatization. The strategy therefore requires substantial reconsideration.”

QUESTION 29

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The committee's explanation for the budget deficit was vague and largely unconvincing. Analysts noted that crucial financial details were omitted from the report. Whether the figures accurately reflect economic realities remains uncertain.”

QUESTION 30

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The authorities watched silently as historic neighbourhoods were demolished in favour of luxury developments. Families were displaced with little compensation or support. Such callous disregard for vulnerable communities is appalling.”

QUESTION 31

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The anti-noise campaign featured loudspeakers installed across the city.”

QUESTION 32

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“Voters seem endlessly fascinated by leaders who repeatedly fail them.”

QUESTION 33

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The company reduced employee stress by increasing weekly performance reviews.”

QUESTION 34

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The corruption awareness campaign disappeared shortly after funding irregularities emerged.”

QUESTION 35

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“Humanity's faith in social media wisdom remains one of its most dangerous achievements.”

QUESTION 36

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The university promoted open discussion by disabling comment sections during student elections.”

QUESTION 37

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The fitness campaign offered free desserts to encourage healthy lifestyles.”

QUESTION 38

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“People still expect privacy from apps that literally track their every movement.”

QUESTION 39

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The media channel devoted an hour-long debate to the dangers of sensationalism.”

QUESTION 40

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The literacy mission distributed unread instruction manuals across rural districts.”

QUESTION 41

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“Society condemns greed every year during award ceremonies sponsored by billionaires.”

QUESTION 42

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The company promised transparency while deleting negative customer reviews.”

QUESTION 43

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The clean-city initiative began with cutting down trees to build parking spaces.”

QUESTION 44

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“Citizens proudly defend freedoms they rarely bother to exercise.”

QUESTION 45

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The public still expects ethical leadership, despite decades of evidence to the contrary.”

QUESTION 46

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The company introduced a “work-life balance” policy requiring employees to stay available 24 hours a day.”

QUESTION 47

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The education board responded to declining reading habits by increasing motivational posters.”

QUESTION 48

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“Another reform has been announced, ensuring that disappointment remains consistent.”

QUESTION 49

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The prison reform conference excluded all former prisoners from participation.”

QUESTION 50

Identify the tone family and its subdivision.

“The city's traffic department celebrated reduced congestion while citizens remained trapped for hours.”